About Plangea Inc.

Liberal Leggings was founded in 2017 on the principle that democracy and equal citizen rights are often best defended by dedicated, visionary, citizens standing up for what they believe in.

Plangea Inc., the parent company for Liberal Leggings, was founded by dad-of-four (3 of them daughters) John Westgarth who received sun protective swimwear from a friend in New Zealand and became convinced that this was the best way to protect his kids from skin cancer. In 2002 the company introduced the Tuga Sunwear brand – a full line of highly fashionable, highly protective swimwear for kids. A line for adults and also pets soon followed. As a small, family owned company John is proud to have built an employee (and pet) friendly work environment that is also socially and environmentally conscious. Based in California, it is 100% solar powered.
